Non-GMO Project

The Non-GMO Project is an organization that offers third party verification and labeling for non-GMO (genetically modified organism) food and products. Currently Mi Rancho's organic corn tortillas are Non-GMO Project Verified. Mi Rancho is in the process of expanding this certification to all of their organic tortillas. This certification is part of Mi Rancho's commitment to consumers, grocers and foodservice customers that its products are made from the safest ingredients.

Certified Organic by QAI

Quality Assurance International is Mi Rancho's preferred auditor for all Certified Organic products. Each year they conduct an audit to verify compliance with USDA Organic Standards. Throughout the year, they review and certify all new organic products and packaging.

NSF International

Annually, Mi Rancho welcomes a third party auditor from NSF International to arrive unannounced and carefully inspect our facility, documents and procedures to conduct a Food Safety, Quality and Food Defense audit. We continue to challenge ourselves on points of good manufacturing practices to ensure that we always provide wholesome products.

Made in California

All Mi Rancho tortillas are made at our company headquarters in San Leandro, California. Whenever possible, Mi Rancho chooses to support local farmers and businesses by purchasing California ingredients.

Certified Kosher by Orthodox Union

In a commitment to serve a wide range diversity, our tortillas are Certified Kosher Parve by Orthodox Union, the world's most recognized and trusted kosher certification.

Military Approved

Mi Rancho is certified by the U.S. Army Veterinary Command as an approved manufacturer and vendor to the United States Armed Forces.
